Wifu reference to the remarks recently made as to the desirability of all Police Expeditions on to the mainland being under direct and special sanction of the Captain Superintendent of Police, it is desirable to point out a very simple mode by which the possibility of any such questions arising as those which aprang up in connection with Inspector BATTEN's expedition, could be avoided. It would certainly seem that in all cases of importance one of the Superintendents of Police should himself proceed upon the expedition. There are two recognised Doputy. Superintendents of the force—one of whom has been absent for a considerable time on leave—and it would certainly seem that, in cases where the assistance of the Chinese Mandarins is called in, one of those gentlemen should go with the expedition. It does not follow from this that he need actually he was bringing him up he was kicked by de. $600 for which a receipt had already been given take a part in the active operations, but it is certainly desirable that some one in a sufficiently responsible position should be at hand to decide on the course of action to be taken in the event of any unexpected difficulty _ turning up. POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

BEFORE F. W. MITCHELL, Esq.

The Police Court dock was well filled with a string of well-known bummers, amongst whom was the famous Bullingall, who has figured so often, doubtless considering the community avein duty bound to support him. So far ho was favored, and was discharged, and the guol authorities told to supply him with bed and board, to enable him to look for something to do. Another bummer, equally as bad, named Ryan, baving no sign to show who he was, or proof that the community was in duty bound to support him, was sent to 21 days' hard labor.

Another, named Stowel, a notorious vagabond, deserving of all he could get, one who would not work to save his life, was sent to one month's hard labor, the Magistrate observing a short sentence was of no use to him, as he was no sooner out of gaol than he was in again. Two others next came in turn charged by Mr. A. Grey, warden of the gool, with destitution. The first, T. Gibson, arrived in this port as a steward in the steamship Scot'and, having worked his way here from Gallo. He had in his possession a gold ring, but as he had never been up before he was discharged. The next, a carpenter, named Orders for Copies may be sent to the Daily | Martin, charged with destitution, appeared to feel his position greatly. He said he had come down from Kobe to this port, in the hope of procuring a situation, not finding any, and having no money, he applied to the magietrate for a place to stay till he got something to do. He was sent to the gaol, but seeing a friend down from Kobe who owed him some money, he begged of him to pay it, so as to prevent him from having to go to a gaol to get his food. This friend supplied him with some money and as long as it lasted he did not go to the gool. It was his bonest intention to work for his bread, as soon as he could get employment.

Mr. Alfred Grey said Martin was a sobe man, but Stowel was in the habit of coming to the gaol at night to sleep as "tight as a lord." TRAGEDY IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, November 18th. A terrible tragedy was enacted to-day at Judge Sutherland, on the third floor. Testimony in the suit for the divorce of Mrs. King from her busband, James C. King, an insurance agent, of 140 East Seventeenth-street, was being taken before Judge Sutherland. A. C. O'Neill, a detective on the Eric Railroad, and his wife, were witnesses. It is said that the evidence of both showed very as the third shot was fired, King ran back to About 5,000 bales were settled, and Stock re- and was removed to New-street Station. They are of course most fondly nurment of district has shared the fate of other forms of beroism : the lancet is sheathed; even types of disease, physiciane tell us, are degenerate; the shagreen lancet case, once the pocket companion of every practitioner, exists only as a relic in museums, or may be more commonly seen converted into a fusee-box. Thus the rivers of blood which formerly flowed in the periodical "spring-bleedings" by barber-surgeons have cessed to run; salivation by calome! is a thing of the past, and alcoholic remedies. sugared pills and pelluoid capsulas, are adapted to the more delicate tastes and constitutions of a weaker race. Possibly, however, a reaction Hongkong Gas Company's Shares $65 per may yet be in store for us. We read in the Guy's Hospital Gazette, not without alarm, of Hongkong Hotel Company's Shares 46 per a class of cases which in the opinion, and sc--cording to the practice of the writer, "are Hongkong Distillery Company-10 per cent benefited by being garotted." "One night." this gentleman relates, "going round the Indo-Chinese Sugar Company-$68 per share wards I found a girl in an hysterical fit; she fought and struggled vigorously with her Hongkong Pier and Godown Company.-30 norses. Hating all rows, I grasped her throat and held it firmly till the actonished girl gasped out, 'You are choking me.' I then relaxed my hold, and promised her a repetition of the ON LONDON.performance. She was thoroughly cowed after having two more fits, and, being twice nearlychoked, her ularm was so great that, though every night previously she had had fits, she desisted. and in a month afterwards her mother told me with juy of her complete recovery. A few days later Mr. Stocker, whose experience is immense, told me how beneficial this plan was, and said, 'You may remain for hours fighting with a screaming girl, but carefully choke them, and On CALCUTTA, -Pank, 3 days' sight 227 they immediately subside—it is unpleasant for them, it frightens them." The italies are those of the accomplished proficient in the art of choking. He ingenuously observes that "fright, fear of being cheked, disagreeableness," are the main elements of his practice; that other strong means which might be recommended are cold water, threats, strong ammonia, galvanism, but nothing answers like choking. The fear of death and the intense discomfort are two factors, which produce such good results." In fainting fits he "believes in bolding up patients by their feet." He has quite a complete and ingenious theory of strangulation as a means of treatment, particularly applicable to women, and more sepecially those of the weaker or hysterical sort. It is happily summed up and aptly illustrated in a sentence which puts the philosophy of garotting in a nut shell. "The Russian controls his unruly steed by a rope round the neck; by this means the most unmanageable (hysterical) mares are immedicately calmed, and, like their buman sisters, are more obedient in future." Thus quite a new field of activity and usefulness is opened up in classes hitherto considered criminal-and dangerous, and a new series of facts is disclosed by these excepts from the practice of Guy's Hospital, of which Mr. Peter Taylor ought to have been earlier apprised. It has not been sufficiently considered how much benefit might accrue to humanity from being choked, and the good results of "the fear of death and intense discomfort," especially on women, have not been rightly taken into ac-

> THE EXPEDITION AFTER THE ESCAPED CONVICTS.

We are glud-to state that Inspector Batten and his party returned on Thursday night in sufety, and we are enabled to give a more correct version of the matter than those previous ly current. It appears, that the Inspector had gone to Wong-kong, at which place to cruise for two notorious pirates, and hearing of the enuped convicts being there, applied to the Mandarin at Kowloon, and obtained his conrefreshing properties of true Bohen; her sent to supply men for their capture, provided Inspector Batten and his party would assist. They arrived at Wong-kong, and being informed of their whereabouts, captured two, but it seems the Mandarin would not allow them to be taken, denying the right of the Kowloon Mandarin to order him to do so. On this, the Inspector, it seems, seized the shopman where one of the convicts was, to force him to give At daybreak, as I was coming up from the him up, but the villagers raised a cry, and the river after my morning's ablutions, I saw this ves, lonfors, and pilates rose in numbers rounded the Inspector and his party with spours, compelling them to retreat into their squaws were pulling it off.
